

Item 7
In-Folder

Programs of California Teachers of English Learners (CTEL)

National Hispanic University

All programs at National Hispanic University endorse the philosophy of Ulibarri that “Language is culture.” In accordance with that philosophy, the CTEL program is designed to “enable teachers to understand and respect differences in students not as deficiencies or handicaps, but as assets, which students bring to school”.

Consortia of UC Riverside, UC San Diego and UC Los Angeles Extensions

Program developed across the three campuses, courses all have the same course numbers and candidates may take courses at any of the three campuses. Each approved institution is responsible for the CTEL program and the program will participate in the accreditation cohort activities with the rest of the institution.

Alliant International University

This program will be offered in San Diego and Fresno. Alliant International is a professional practice university so the program is designed to be a blend of theory and practice. University personnel will work closely with school districts to identify teachers in need of this program and invite expertise of local practitioners into courses as guest speakers.

Programs of Professional Preparation for the Education Specialist Credential

Oakland Unified School District

Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential Program:

Education Specialist: Mild/Moderate Disabilities with Internship

Option II*

*Level II will be offered in partnership with Alliant International University. Level II will be offered at the university.

(Approval will be effective January 31, 2008, upon Commission action. The district is on the agenda for Commission institutional approval at its January-February 2008 meeting.)

Alliant International University

Professional Clear Level II Education Specialist Credential Program:

Education Specialist Mild/Moderate Disabilities

California State University, Stanislaus

Preliminary Level I Education Specialist Credential Program:

Education Specialist: Mild/Moderate Disabilities with Internship Option I

Education Specialist: Moderate/Severe Disabilities w/ Internship Option I

Multiple Subject BCLAD Emphasis Program

Alliant International University